DALY CITY BAND ENCOURAGED BY ENDORSEMENTS

Uniform Fund Is Receiving Support From Number Of Organizations

ADVERTISE OUR CITY

The boys composing the Daly City Band are greatly encouraged by the fact that a number of civic organizations, as well as many private citizens and business and professional men have become interested in the matter of securing uniforms for the band and thus advertise the city by enabling them to play at outside functions of prominence to which they have received invitations.

The band at a business meeting on Tuesday evening decided to send out printed requests to citizens' homes for subscriptions to the uniform fund, no matter how large or how small, because every bit helps to make up the entire amount needed.

Civic pride should impel all citizens to give all support possible to increase the uniform fund of the Daly City Band. A uniformed band playing at various public functions in other cities is one of the greatest advertisements any community could secure. And this opportunity is now beckoning to every resident of our wonderful community.

The matter has received the endorsement of a number of community minded fraternal and civic organizations, and more are expected, as the proposition will be submitted by committees from the band to every civic and fraternal body in Daly City in the near future.

Last Tuesday evening the executive board of the Community Welfare Association met and decided to recommend to the next regular meeting of that body and to the Woman's Civic Club that the two organizations in conjunction with the band give a dance in the near future, the proceeds from which will be turned into the Band Uniform Fund.

Let your response be made as early as possible, as the time in which to raise this fund is short, owing to the number of affairs at which the band has been asked to play in the near future, and which require that they have uniforms in order to participate.

Let's all get busy and do our bit!

Stocton Handicap Is To Be First Stake Contest Run Saturday Afternoon

With a great galaxy of the finest and fleetest thoroughbreds in the country waiting to face the starter's signal, Bay Meadows, San Mateo's beautiful new racing course, will formally open its big entrance gates here for the first time Saturday afternoon.

The opening, featured by a splendid racing card, climaxed by the $1500 added Stockton Handicap, in which a large field of high class handicap horses will compete, will be accompanied by colorful ceremonies. These ceremonies will include parades, military drills, band music, greetings from state, county and city officials and other spectacular features.

Together with the fact that its new mile racing oval bids fair to become one of the fastest tracks in the country, Bay Meadows also will offer for the first time in the west a huge and costly electric totalisator. In point of thoroughbreds competing, Bay Meadows will inaugurate its racing season with the greatest number of high class horses brought together since racing was legislated out of existence more than twenty five years ago.

More than 700 horses, including not less than fifty that rate in the top brackets of national racing fame, already are nominated for big handicap races to be run at the new track, includes such famous stake horses as Gallant Sir, Faireno, Toro Nancy. PREVENTION OF FIRE EACH WEEK AIM OF FIREMEN

Assist Department In Every Possible Way By Giving Members Information

Last month there was one week set aside for Fire Prevention Week, but, as fire prevention and fire hazards are to be prevented every week, watch fire menaces and try to prevent fires or setting of the fire alarms. Be sure and stay at the box that you ring in from, so you may direct the chief and firemen to the place where the fire is located.

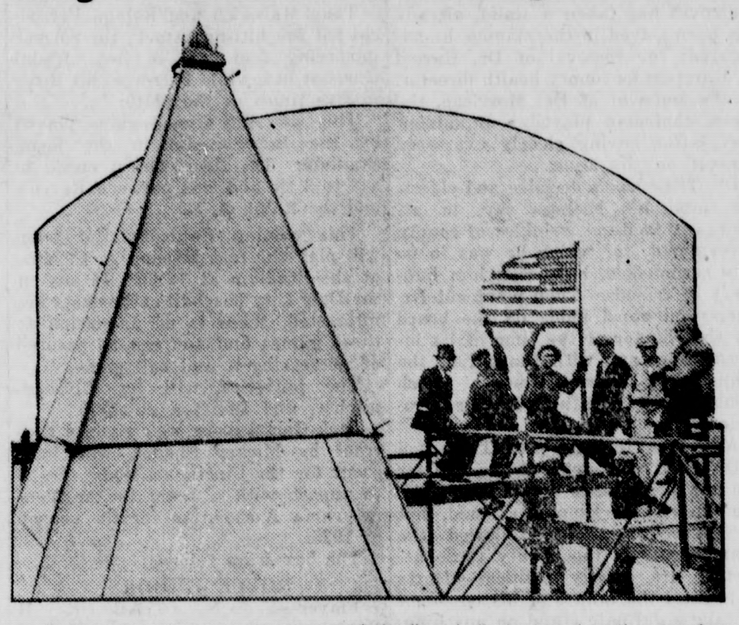
Also watch your chimneys, as the wind blows very hard sometimes and it may blow over your chimneys, causing a fire hazard, and the roof may catch fire.

When the fire marshal or deputy marshals call on you, inform them about any fire menace around your building or home. Every building and nome in Daly City is looked after by the fire department.

All its members try to help you save lives and property, and are at your service twenty-four hours of the day. They always respond and are on the job the moment the alarms come in.

Make every week Fire Prevention Week and you will help the fire department, yourself and your neighbors.

Flag at Pinnacle of Washington Shaft



With the last support in place and the final bolt tightened in the structure, Old Glory was placed atop the scaffolding that has been built about the 555-foot shaft that is the Washington monument in the National Capital, and the work of renovating, repairing and refurbishing the great obelisk now goes forward. The erection of the scaffolding was a major engineering feat.

California Gold Output Shows Substantial Gain

By J. W. MARCHBANK
(Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work)

Estimates indicate mining of the precious metal is going on apace this year, with rich rewards for the miners increased by gold at its high price. Official figures for last year are interesting. The statistical department of the State Division of Mines, which has recently completed its study of last year's production of minerals (54 in all), reports California produced $206,484,671 worth of minerals in 1933, an increase of more than $7,000,000 over the previous twelve month period.

Gold led the minerals in greater production, with the mines of the state giving up 613,579 fine ounces, at an average value of $25.56 per fine ounce. There were 797 lode mines and 993 placer mines in operation, not counting many small prospectors.

The total gold production for last year amounted to the tidy sum of $15,683,075.

In order to stimulate mining as much as possible Governor Merriam requested the State Mining Board to prepare a plan, and has called upon mining men throughout the state to give expression to their opinions as to the rehabilitation of the industry in California.

Determination of the following is desired:

Whether there should be a Department of Mineral Resources separate from the existing Department of Natural Resources.

Whether there is adequate mining inspection under the present Industrial Accident Commission, or separately, under a Department of Mineral Resources.

A plan for a closer co-operation between the prospector and a Department of Mineral Resources, together with the establishment of better facilities for such co-operation.

Make recommendations as to the construction of roads and their maintenance to provide adequate means of reaching mining regions.

Word has been received, according to the Alaska Weekly, that the long searched for mother lode of the Cassiar has been definitely located and that the values and size of the lode are greater than the wildest dreams of the old timer.

In a highly interesting article about the Cassiar, the northern weekly says:

"Back in the seventies and early eighties there was one of the greatest stampedes into Cassiar that the North has ever known.

"It is estimated that at one time there were 30,000 prospectors and miners in the section clustering around the lower end of Dease Lake, and literally millions of placer gold were taken from the gravels of Dease, McDames, De Foe, Mosquito, Delour and Thibbert Creeks.

'The fact that the heavy gold was found near the heads of the creeks has led mining men to believe that some place in the range of mountains back of the creeks some rich quartz would be discovered and every year prospectors have been in the hills, searching in vain until this past summer, when late this fall a prospector and his son, named Culbertson, made the find. The ledge was located about of McDames Creek and is rich in free twenty-five miles above the mouth gold.

"According to the meager reports now at hand, the lode is from eight to twenty feet in width, has good, well defined walls and the ore is literally shot with free gold."

Henry Morgenthau, Jr., secretary of the treasury, has expressed the opinion that the new tax imposed by China on silver would have little effect on the treasury's huge purchasing program, aside from increasing the price at which the white metal must be acquired. The treasury is purchasing immense quantities of silver in carrying out the edict of Congress that the treasury's silver holdings be increased until its reserve of monetary bullion consist of 75 per cent gold and 25 per cent silver.

OPPORTUNITY NOW AGAIN KNOCKS AT DALY CITY DOORS

Citizens Have Great Chance To Save Money Through Building Of Schools

HELP PUT BONDS OVER

(By Maude Larue Ives)

Suppose in your Xmas stocking you should happen to find a letter from Santa Claus similar to the following:

Dear Friend:

You need a new house—the old one in which you are living is a fire trap and unsafe for you and your children. I am offering you a loan of $5000 to build a new home. You may have twenty years in which to repay this amount at only 4 per cent interest. And if you accept this offer now, I will make you a gift of 30 per cent of the cost of the labor and material needed; in other words, $1500 as a present for your enterprise in building now, which means that you will owe me only $3500 that you need to repay.

Would you accept this generous offer? Who wouldn't?

When we vote today, Friday, on the school bond issue we are dealing with a similar proposition that not only affects the health and safety of our children, but of every child in Daly City. Of course, we all want our school children to be safe, comfortable and happy in their pursuit of an education.

Uncle Sam is our real Santa Claus at this time, giving us an opportunity to better our children's educational environment. So, isn't it up to us all to vote "YES" on the school bond issue?

Your vote and mine may be the very ones needed to carry the proposition. So let us go to the polls and

RE-ELECT

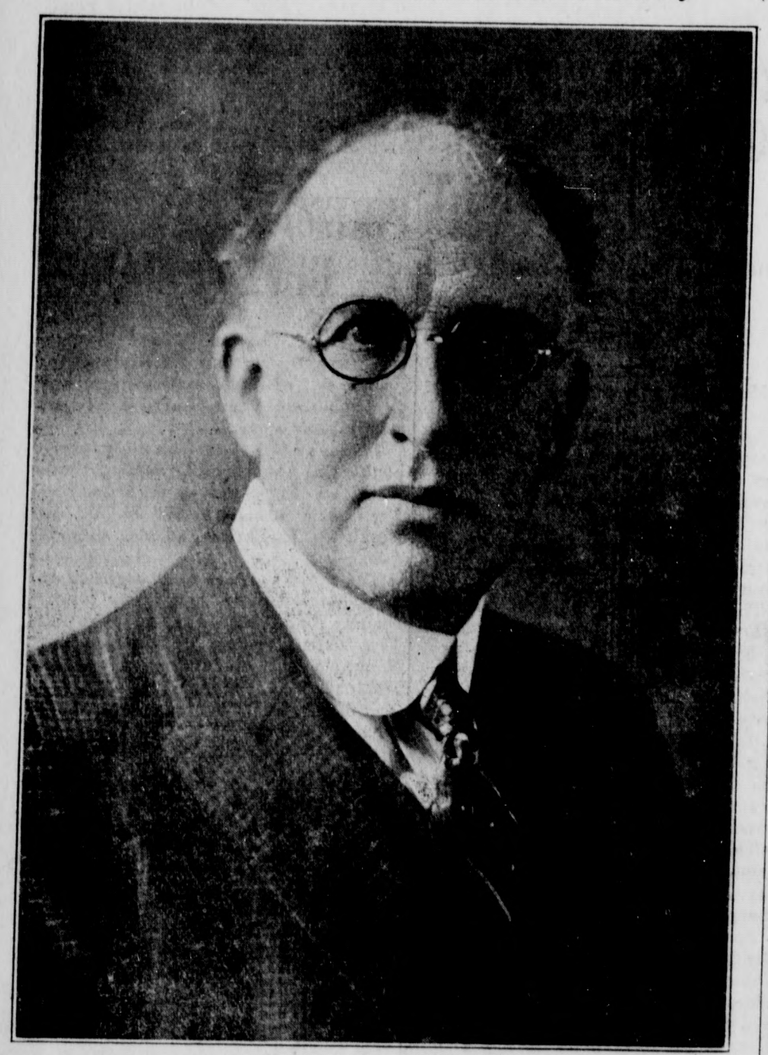
JUDGE ELLIS C.

JOHNSON

INCUMBENT

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

First Judicial Township, San Mateo County



Says the South San Francisco Enterprise:

"Over a long period of years, Judge Ellis C. Johnson has served First Township residents efficiently as justice of the peace. He comes up for reelection November 6 with a long record of accomplishments and honest dealings.

"The office of justice of the peace is one which is more important than it seems to be to many people. It requires a definite training. Judge Johnson has acquired that experience during his terms as a township judge. Voters would be mistaken to remove a man who has fulfilled the requirements well and whose experience lends dignity to the position."

DR. THOMPSON IS GAINING SUPPORT

The courageous stand of Dr. C. V. Thompson, Burlingame, chairman of the San Mateo county board of supervisors, during his campaign, today was receiving wide commendation, as the drive for his re-election drew to a close.

Supporters of Dr. Thompson pointed out that he has spoken freely on governmental issues, while there has not been a single word from his pponent during all the controversy of the past few weeks. They added that no one need guess as to how Dr. Thompson stands on county government issues, of unusual interest at the present time.

Prominent citizens backing Dr. Thompson's campaign for re-election, said one problem upon which the chairman has taken a stand, already has been solved in the manner he advocated; the removal of Dr. Harold E. Morrison as county health director. In the removal of Dr. Morrison, the board chairman played a prominent part, after having clearly expressed himself on the issue.

Dr. Thompson's decisive and effective stand, his backers say, in attempts to iron out wrinkles of county government, for which he was in no way responsible, have won him hundreds of friends. They point out Dr. Thompson stood alone on the board for the charter at the time of its inauguration, and with the aid of the grand jury blocked moves which would have nullified charter provisions.

Attempts to link Dr. Thompson with those who opposed the charter are now being made by his opponents, the chairman's supporters said, but to those who have followed the charter rule in the county these attempts are merely political efforts to becloud the failure of his opponent to take a definate stand on anything, they added.

These sentimens were backed up by the three members of Burlingame's city council, of which Dr. Thompson's opponent also is a member, who openly endorsed Dr. Thompson, and hailed him as the best qualified to serve the county. Led by Mayor Allan F. Hunt, Councilmen William W. Hives and William D. Handlos, urged Burlingame and the county to support Dr. Thompson, because, they said, they are in a position to know he is best qualified.

Many endorsements and messages of commendation have been received by Dr. Thompson, who today paid tribute to those working on his behalf, and expressed his gratitude for the support of his efforts in county government. Dr. Thompson added when re-elected he will continue to carry out the will of the people.

DEMOCRATS HOLD INTERESTING MEET

The Democratic Sinclair-Downey Club of Daly City held a grand mass meeting last Monday evening, with attendance that filled the auditorium.

Mr. Morgan, chairman of the Daly City Democratic Club, presented Mr. Paul G. Selmi, who acted as chairman of the evening. Mr. Selmi in his address expressed his belief that the working class would get more recognition in their behalf by voting for Sinclair and Downey than they would from any other candidate.

Jimmie Britt, the first speaker to be called upon, made a wonderful address in behalf of the Democratic candidates. Jimmie held the lightweight championship of the world many years ago and in his conclusion he told of a few funny experiences that happened in his travels.

Another speaker who held the interest of the people for about an hour was E. J. Carroll, secretary of the Apartment House Managers and Lessees Association. He spoke entirely on economic facts and real issues that the public should know before forming an opinion as to whom their next governor should be. He stressed the point that Upton Sinclair and Sheridan Downed must be elected if the interests of the people are to be protected.

RENA MOONEY AT DEMOCRATIC RALLY

The Women's Division of the Daly City Sinclair-Downey Democratic Club will hold a mammoth rally on Friday night, November 2, at Daly City Democratic headquarters, 6261 Mission street.

ROYCE SPORTS JUNIORS DOWN MISSION REDS

Gertzenberg Allows Only Five Hits As Mates Collect Fifteen

The Royce Sports baseball team had little difficulty in defeating "Red" Adams Mission Reds Saturday afternoon at the Seals Stadium.

Jack Gertzenberg's twirling completely baffled the Mission batsmen, as he fanned eleven, and allowed five scattered hits.

Tony Marovich and Roland Petrocchi led the hitting attack, the former garnering four hits in five official times at bat, while Petrocchi hit three in five times at the plate.

This was the second game played by the Royce team in the Seals Stadium. The first contest ended in a 3 to 3 tie and was between Royce's and the Rolph A. C.

This coming Saturday the team will play the fast Mission A. C. Nine at the Stadium at 12:30. If any of the Daly City baseball enthusiasts are interested, there is no admission to these games and you can be assured of witnessing a real ball game.

The batteries will be Silvestri, pitcher, and Pfeiffer, catcher.

Jack Gertzenberg was given a contract by Mickey Shader, who is a scout for the Cincinnati Reds. He is to report with a team in the Pennslyvania Association for the season of 1935.

A picturesque full costume Halloween party was given at the home of H. Rudolph on Winchester street last Saturday evening by the Happy Ramblers Club.

Singing of old time songs opened the party, followed by dancing and games. The master of ceremonies, Mr. Rudolph, called on some of the guests for stunts, which filled in the program acceptably.

The main attraction of the evening was the old time "hoose-gow," which was built by W. Warfield. Any one caught "lifting" any of the small articles hung up around the place was put in this "hoose-gow" and forfeited a small coin for their error.

At 12 o'clock midnight the famous old witch was brought in reclining in a coffin, and this created much merriment among the guests.

DALY CITY NINE WINS TIGHT GAME

"Janet and Arthur are staying?"

"Yes, luckily."

He saw Arthur next day. The young men discussed the situation at the academy. "He hates you, Wilton, as I suppose a disappointed and by no means noble lover can hate his rival. Remember, this man had known Berenice all her life; you come in and sweep away his little air castle in a moment."

"Thank God!"

"Don't tempt fate! Leave this region—leave Berenice for a time. You can write to each other. He would not surely intercept your letters."

"Oh, wouldn't he!"

"Send them under cover to me."

"That's a good idea! If I ever need to do that."

"Take my advice and get out. I never yet went uninvited into a yard where there were bulldogs," Arthur said philosophically. "Balder's a mean, sulky fellow—and that's the best can be said of him. I think he would do anything for Haskell, though whether in a rage or devotion it's hard to tell."

"What harm could Balder do me?"

"Don't get in his way—that's all!"

After that the days became a waiting for Berenice in the farmhouse over which the blue-black clouds of winter were now driving. Wilton kept at bay his fears and doubts by as hard manual labor as Jerry was willing to let him do. Every day he went to the oak, and at last his hand closed on the promised letter. He shut himself in his bedroom to read it:

"Dear Wilton:

"I haven't written before because I have been nursing Mother Martha. She refused to go to bed, poor dear, and died very quietly in her chair this morning. The servants are very much afraid. Janet will move up to Mother Martha's room soon, and even Gordon Haskell approves of this. He is afraid I will be nervous, though how he could expect us to be very lively in that huge place I don't know. I have not mourned for dear Mother Martha. She was old and tired and wanted to go. Cook has her usual story—of her waking up in the night and seeing a boat with children in the moonlight—rowing Mother Martha. How can a place prosper under such a reign of superstition?"

Arthur, arriving later, told him the hour of the funeral, and the next day but one he watched the procession from a nearby hill winding a black course through the bleak air. Jerry had gone to be one of the mourners, and spent the rest of the day rather grandly in black, square-looking clothes. "The old place will breathe its last some time, just as Martha did," he said comfortably. "And, oh, Berenice asked me to give you this."

It was another little note, saying that she had gone down to see if the figures were safe, and to tend them a little as Mother Martha had.

". . . though I did it more in memory of her than to satisfy any feeling of my own—those poor symbols are nothing now! Maybe poor Mother Martha has found her charges in that other world. I like to think of them holding out their hands to her. The cook, of course, was dreaming and romancing—but it was a pretty idea—their rowing her across the lake. She went so quietly—almost as if some one had stopped at the door and beckoned her."

Wilton poured out his heart in a long letter—wondering at the inadequacy of words, their nimble, elusive ways of refusing to carry burdens of emotion. On his way to the oak he met Sally Welford, who had been to the funeral.

She nodded brightly to him. "You are still around these parts, Mr. Payne?"

"Yes, Sally. You left the academy of your own accord. But I didn't. You see, I am engaged to be married to Miss Bracebridge."

"So I've heard, sir. We're all glad. We wish it could be soon. He might as well give her up first as last."

"I agree with you."

She went on a few paces—turned

"Mr. Wilton, I Wouldn't Stay Up Here Too Long."

back. "Mr. Wilton, I wouldn't stay up here too long."

"Why do you say that?"

"Oh—I feel trouble," she answered.

CHAPTER VIII

Janet and Arthur had announced their engagement to Berenice, but not to Gordon Haskell, suspecting him of having little sympathy with engagements between young and impecunious people. Mrs. Denver was also admitted to their confidence, and one dark December night the four gathered about the library and talked in whispers, though listeners could not be many. Only one servant remained in the kitchen—the others having yielded to their fears. Mrs. Denver welcomed her own additional duties as an outlet for her pent-up emotions. She had odd little disputes with Gordon over what she considered foolish things—the packing away of table linen, the ordering of certain things in abundance while others on the list were left out altogether.

To Arthur she confided her suspicions that Haskell was getting ready for some move which should make a radical change in their existence. "I believe he doesn't want the day scholars," she ventured her opinion. "I think he's just as glad they are dropped off. Then the heft of the winter is ahead of us, and many of those boys and girls couldn't come far through the snow anyway. I don't relish the thought of being beseiged through the long winter months. Do you think he means to murder us all?"

"He hasn't courage enough for that. The man is an arrant coward—afraid of his own shadow really—though he does bluster so! Cheer up, Mrs. Denver. There would always be a way of getting out of this place. Maybe he'll send us out as he did poor Wilton."

"Well, I hope it won't be at night—think of waiting at that station at Blade for the down train."

This night the four heard the splashing of heavy rollers against the rocks of the shore, and knew it portended storm. Haskell came to the door once. "There's a door slamming somewhere, Fleming," he said; "if there is anything I abhor it's a slamming door. Won't you go look for it?"

Arthur went obediently. Outside of his creaking room, to which he had never become accustomed, the old academy had lost most of its terrors for him. Upstairs and downstairs he went. In the corridor of the basement he saw Balder gazing through the glass peephole.

"Aren't you well enough acquainted with those figures?" Arthur queried.

"Can you locate that slamming door?"

"Yes, top floor—east wing—Mother Martha's—always did slam unless it was bolted."

Arthur went with this information to Haskell. "Lock your door when you come out," Haskell commanded Janet, who now occupied Mother Martha's room. Then he went on down into the basement. A single lamp lit the corridor, the dimness broken at one point by the red glow from the kitchen fire. From a dark recess Balder stepped suddenly in front of his master, and Haskell started violently.

"Why are you always hanging around? Go to your room; or go out to the barns. You are always under foot."

"I am—am I—well, you'll need old Balder again some day."

"What do you mean?"

"I want some money."

"I haven't any! This mad freak of Miss Bracebridge to revive the school has taken everything."

Balder grinned. "You can always get money, Boss, for Balder."

"Look here, what you do—is on your own responsibility."

"Always on my own responsibility. I'm tough. You're tender! A bit of a scholar, as they say—a white-handed scholar."

Haskell aimed a stinging blow at him; Balder dodged and waved a paw as if a mosquito had come after him. "You'll never get Wilton Payne out of this neighborhood. That man knows what he wants and means to have it. They have a regular rural free delivery. Miss Bracebridge sends her notes by Mr. Fleming; that old tree near the cross roads. You know her writing well—don't you? You've seen it often enough?"

"Of course I know her writing."

"Well! Can't you put two and two together?"

"You talk more, say less than any human being I know. Get out of here."

"I can keep a secret," Balder avowed suddenly.

"I am not so sure of that."

The man shuffled off down the corridor.

"There's only one way to get rid of that brute," Haskell muttered to himself. "Leave this great, rotting pile—and go out into the world! But I can't go without her—I can't. She's all that keeps me sane."

THIRTY YEARS OF PROGRESS

Central picture shows the Bank of Italy, predecessor of the Bank of America, as it looked in 1906. The original office on Columbus Avenue where the Bank was established on October 17, 1904, was razed by the San Francisco Fire. In thirty years the Bank of America has assumed state-wide proportions under the leadership of A. P. Giannini (lower center). San Francisco, head office of the branch bank (left) and Los Angeles, main office (right) as they are today, are shown in contrast to the Bank premises of twenty-eight years ago.

THE HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE OF THE BOSTON RAID

Epic of Early Revolutionary Days Commemorative of Spirit of Americanism

(By Maude Larue Ives)

In American history the name is applied to a famous raid on a number of English tea ships anchored in the Boston Harbor. This raid occurred on the night of December 16, 1773, when American indignation over the tax imposed on imports of teas was at its height. When ships laden with tea, sent to America by the English East India Company, arrived at Boston, the people assembled in a town meeting and passed resolutions urging the English governor, named Hutchinson, to demand the immediate return of the vessels and their cargoes. His message of refusal, conveyed to the mass meeting, held in the Old South Meeting House (or town hall), was followed immediately by the famous "Tea Party." A number of citizens, in the disguise of Indians and armed with hatchets, hurried to the wharf, boarded one of the vessels and broke open 341 chests containing tea and threw their contents into the harbor waters.

This is the forceful and picturesque manner in which the citizens of Boston announced their conviction that "taxation without representation is tyranny."

COLORS FOR AUTO PLATES SELECTED

Those motorists who make a sort of game of noting the license plates of other states will find black, green, blue and yellow predominating on visiting cars next year, according to a list of 1935 plate colors reported by the California State Automobile Association. California's colors will be orange lettering on black background, reversing the 1934 combination. Following are the 1935 plate colors for all states:

Alabama, white on green; Arizona, black on copper; Arkansas, blue on cream; California, orange on black; Colorado, black on yellow; Connecticut, white on maroon; Delaware blue on old gold; Florida, black on yellow; Georgia, blue on orange; Idaho, yellow on black; Illinois, blue on gray; Indiana, black on blue; Iowa, white on blue; Kansas, orange on black; Kentucky, black on yellow; Louisiana, gold on purple; Maine, white on blue; Maryland, blue on white; Massachusetts, white on green; Michigan, yellow on blue; Minnesota, gold on maroon; Mississippi, orange on black; Missouri, white on green; Montana, black on orange; Nebraska, black on glay; Nevada, white on green; New Hampshire, green on white; New Jersey, aluminum on black; New Mexico, blue on white; New York, black on orange; North Carolina, aluminum on black; North Dakota, orange on blue; Ohio, yellow on blue; Oklahoma, black on white; Oregon, yellow on black, Pennsylvania, gold on blue; Rhode Island, black on white; South Carolina, black on white; South Dakota, black on yellow; Tennessee, white on black; Texas, white on maroon; Utah, white on black; Vermont, white on blue; Virginia, black on white; Washington, white on blue; West Virginia, black on yellow; Wisconsin, white on black; Wyoming, blue on white; District of Columbia, green on white.

Clean Oil Filter

Oil filters should be serviced after every 10,000 miles of driving, according to the emergency road service of the California State Automobile Association. During this milage a filter becomes saturated with dirt, sludge and other foreign matter. If the filter cartridge is not changed these destructive materials reach the engine's moving parts, such as bearings, piston rings, pistons, etc., causing these parts to wear rapidly.

GUESS HE DON'T CARE NOW

When the Wasco Indian chief, Duc-Sa- Hi, built and operated a ferry across the Deschutes River in Oregon back in the early sixties for the convenience of early settlers, he little thought that his humble, though useful service would have lasting commemoration. But this resulted recently when a $50,000 bridge at the ferry site was dedicated in his honor.

1. When does ½ Off begin to apply?
With the bill for electricity used after the December, 1934, meter reading.

2. Who gets it?
All domestic and commercial lighting customers who have been customers at the same location of last year.

3. How do I benefit?
Perhaps you have been using electricity sparingly. Now you can use TWO DOLLARS more of electricity each month than last year and it will only cost ONE DOLLAR.

4. Must I add new appliances?
NO. However, each new electric appliance you install that would normally take EXTRA Electricity at full rate can now operate at half cost.

5. How do I apply?
No action on your part is necessary. The rate automatically applies to all who qualify.

One-half Off means this: That the amount of money by which your bill for any one month at same location exceeds your bill for the corresponding month a year back will be discounted 50%.

6. How does the rate work?
Your monthly bill will show that the normal cost for any electricity used in any month in excess of amount used in corresponding month of previous year has been cut in half.

7. Can you give an example?
Say your bill in January, 1934, was $3.00. You install an electric refrigerator, an electric heater and a new lamp. Your January, 1935, bill is $6.00. You have EXTRA Electricity to the amount of $3.00. You get a ½ Off discount of $1.50. The bill you pay in January, 1935, will therefore be only $4.50.

8. Does electric equipment installed through a Federal Housing Act loan give me this bargain rate?
Yes. This rate also applies to the use of additional equipment you install. This should be an extra inducement to you for obtaining a F. H. A loan. See any banker.

9. How long will ½ Off be in effect?
Throughout our system for 12 months ending with the meter reading ending December, 1935.

10. Why was this ½ Off rate made?
To see if a bargain rate would cause a more liberal use of electricity, and take up part of the large power surplus in Northern California.

IMPORTANT!
It is hoped and expected by this company that this ½ Off rate will so stimulate use of electricity as to justify a reduction in the regular schedule.

Reduction Of "Take" Vital To Our Racing

By J. W. MARCHBANK

Charles E. Brossman, who knows the racing game from A to Z, has a very timely observation in his column in The Thoroughbred Record, as follows.

"High class racing between famous horses will always have an appeal, but too many races between cheap horses will not attract for long."

That was by way of sage comment on the successful meetings this year at Rockingham Park, Salem, New Hampshire, and Narragansett Park, Pawtucket, Rhode Islnd. The meetings were good in every respect. Brossman, however, sees the necessity of a warning before the sport is overdone. Both courses had good stakes and liberal added money. Another danger looms in the possibility of a multiplicity of tracks to draw the Boston people. As is well known, the patronage comes from the metropolis of Massachusetts. It is reported three new tracks are contemplated within easy automobile distance of Boston.

Cheap horses and too many tracks are drawbacks that must be guarded against at all times.

A certain way to attract the best runners available is to offer liberal purses. The critic I have quoted is practical, as well as a deep student of the sport—he was a noted trainer some years ago—and he is right about getting the good horses. That does not mean every race must be a stakes or a handicap, but each contest can be made up of gallopers with a bit of class.

Interest in reducing the commission on the pari mutuel pools in this state is increasing fast among the higher grade of horsemen and by the time the Legislature assembles sentiment may be expected to be crystallized to put the proposition over with a bang. As my readers know, the law provides twelve per cent of the pools to be abstracted for the racing association and the state—eight to the association and four to the sate. The "take" should be nine per cent.

A much better division, out of a "take" of nine per cent, would be:

Six per cent to the racing association; and three per cent to the state, with half of the three per cent to be turned into a promotion fund for tourists, and used for a widely advertised big race or series of races.

If you think there is such a thing as "easy payments," ask the fellow who tries to collect them.

Answer: France; through United States Ambassador Levi P. Morton, in Paris, on August 5, 1884. It was not unveiled on Liberty Island until October 28, 1886.

Question: Where is the Mason and Dixon Line located, what is its significance and how did it originate?

Answer: In geography it is the straight east and west line separating Maryland and Pennsylvania. In history an extension of the line roughly marked the division between slave holding and free states before the War of Secession.

The geographic line was surveyed and marked by milestones between the years 1763 and 1767. This was the result of a controversy between the families of William Penn and of the two Lords Baltimore, possessors of Pennsylvania and Maryland, respectively. The work was performed by two English surveyors, Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, hence the name. All the milestones were marked on one side with an "M" for Maryland and on the other side "P" for Pennsylvania. Every fifth stone bore the arms of the two state owners. Through the years many of these stones were removed and used as doorsteps, curbstones, foundations and other purposes. Nearly all have been recovered and replaced.

This line is at the parallel of 30 degrees, 43 minutes and 26.3 seconds, north latitude.

CARELESS DRIVER IS A MAJOR PROBLEM

With the amazing improvement in automobile safety factors during the last few years, that perennial bugbear of the highway, the careless driver, is getting more and more blame for motor vehicle accidents from the cold figures of statisticians. Experts now claim that he is not only murderously sweeping the highways, but is further to blame for many accidents and deaths because he has failed to check up on his safety equipment before leaving his garage, accordng to the Public Safety Department of the National Automobile Club.

Conclusions are based on the 1933 accident statistics, for which it was conservatively estimated that 17,200 persons lost their lives in 492,500 accidents. Practically two-thids of these accidents were due in some degree to driving errors. Among these, exceeding the speed limit resulted in the greatest number of deaths.

Speed too great for the conditions is a potent factor in accidents involving improper passing, failure to grant the right of way, driving off the roadway, and reckless operation. The number of accidents from these causes and exceeding the speed limit comprised approximately three-quarters of all the mishaps which in 1933 may be assigned to driving errors.

From tests made of the mechanical conditions of cars in a number of states it is known that three out of every four vehicles registered are dangerous because of some defect in safety equipment. These tests show that brakes are in need of replacement or repair in a third of the cars, that lamps need to be replaced or adjusted in nearly 70 per cent and that tires are in either poor or only fair condition on nearly 48 per cent.

Every effort should be made by the individual motorist to drive with care and to keep in good condition the equipment protecting his safety.

Drain Once a Year

Most car owners are content to keep the transmission filled to the proper level with lubricant but the owner determined to give his car really careful attention will see that the transmission is drained thoroghly at least once a year, states L. G. Evans, Director of Roadside Service of the Nationel Automobile Club.

HIGH SCORE FOR BANK ADVERTISING

Highest honors of any California bank in the 1934 bank advertising point score conducted by Bank-Ad Views of New York City were awarded to Bank of America N. T. & S. A.

The bank scored thirty nine out of a maximum of forty points awarded by the acknowledged authority on the world's best bank advertising. Last year Bank or America led the competition with forty-eight points, the highest score registered in many years.

A certificate of merit for the high quality of its advertising during 1934 has been received by Bank of America from Vincent Edwards Co., publishers of Bank-Ad Views. In the 1934-1935 competition begun October 1, Bank of America is again leading the nation.

Loose Wiring

Lights which flare brighter as the motor is accelerated may be due to a loose connection somewhere in the electrical circuit, according to the emergency road service of the California State Automobile Association.

Some of the places where loose connections may develop are ammeter terminals, starter terminals, or battery terminals.

UNIFORM TRAFFIC LAWS ARE AID TO CAR TRAVELERS

General adoption of the Uniform Traffic Ordinance by scores of cities during the past few years now makes it possible for California motorists familiar with traffic laws in their own home towns to avoid difficulty in observing regulations in effect in other cities of the state.

This standardized set of laws was drafted and sponsored by the California State Automobile Association as an aid to motorists and communities alike. The motorists' organization is also supporting efforts to have similar uniform traffic rules adopted in cities elsewhere along the Pacific Coast and throughout the West as an aid to California motorists traveling outside of the state.

The California ordinance conforms closely to the model municipal traffic ordinance for cities of the United States formulated by traffic experts.

Tube Wear Is Cause

When the windshield wiper fails to work, the first possible cause of the trouble that should be checked is development of leaks in the tube beween the wiper and the intake manifold, according to L. G. Evans, Director of Roadside service of the National Automobile Club. Time takes an inevitable toll of the rubber of which the connection is made, either in whole or in part.

VOTE "NO"

—the PROHIBITION or so-called local option proposal

It seeks to bring back to California an aggravated form of the Wright Act, repealed less than two years ago by a vote of 1,459,835 to 658,351.

IT WOULD MAKE YOU A CRIMINAL if you possess, transport through, sell, offer for sale or manufacture beverages containing more than ½ of 1% alcohol in a single dry precinct.

It would decrease State and National Revenue.

It would increase unemployment.

It would decrease purchases, such as barley, hops, lumber, etc.

EXPEDITING PROCEDURE UNDER NRA

Ever since President Roosevelt appointed the National Industrial Recovery Board as the new administrative body to direct code enforcement, its members have been holding frequent—sometimes twice daily—sessions to chart the future course of NRA.

First there was an exhaustive review and analysis of NRA's activity from the approval of the Recovery Act, June 16, 1933, down to the relinquishment of one-man administration. All of the codes have been studied and their special provisions examined with a view to regrouping and co-ordination in the interest of more expeditious and efficient administration. Besides studying individual codes the Recovery Board entered into a review of the entire NRA organization division by division for the purpose of appraising special problems.

In framing the first general objectives the Recovery Board placed emphasis on a number of major subjects, among them:

1. Expediting administrative procedure to eliminate delay in action on code amendments, budget plans, orders, applications for exemption, and all other important business.

2. Increasing the responsibility of administrative branches of NRA for action in their respective spheres and strengthening the executive personnel by bringing in specialists and others, both to fill vacancies and to undertake new activities.

3. Extending research work into long-range study insofar as major industries are concerned.

The board has provided a new method of disposing of policy and controversial matters by reorganizing and expanding its Advisory Council. As reconstituted the Advisory Council of 9 will be headed by a special assistant to the National Industrial Recovery Board and will include in its membership two members from the Industrial Advisory Board, two members from the Labor Advisory Board, two members from the Consumers' Advisory Board, one member from the Legal Division, one member from the Division of Research and Planning.

"The function of the council," said a statement authorized by NRA, "will be to present to the National Industrial Recovery Board definite recommendations on the disposal of issues involving policy or controversy in an entirely advisory capacity. Minority views will be accepted by the board, if the council is not in full agreement on any matter.

" The Advisory Council will absorb the functions of the office of the assistant adminstrator for policy, heretofore held by the acting general counsel of NRA, who is an ex-officio member of the National Industrial Recovery Board."

In making known this new phase of reorganization the National Industrial Recovery Board made it clear that it did not intend to launch into spectacular revision of NRA processes and objectives.

NEW REED COLLEGE PRESIDENT PRAISES NRA ACHIEVEMENTS

NRA gave the country tremendous emotional lift at a time when it was most needed. Dr. Dexter M. Keezer, new president of Reed College, and formerly a member of the NRA Consumers' Advisory Board in Washington, declared in an address recently.

There were three avenues open to follow in attacking the depression, Dr. Keezer said—intervention through the anti-trust laws, regulation, or government ownership and operation.

Dr. Keezer asserted that the anti-trust laws have not worked and cited industries where monopoly has been built up. Likewise regulation as applied to public utilities has been considered a failure and has led to the demand for government ownership and operation.

"There is something in the code of fair competition and the Code Authority to save us from an enormous amount of grief" he said, pointing out that many industries had been threatened, either through monopoly or ruinous competition, and that the NRA had brought about wage increases of 62 per cent in the South and 55 per cent in the North.

"The NRA may have been too ambitious in the first place but there are things in it worth examining. Think carefully what you have in the route to salvation before casting it aside."

Dr. Keezer, who came to Portland from Washington, asserted that he hardly could be classed as a "brain-truster," since his work with the NRA had been confined to making a working team out of the "brain trust" and the practical business group.

"The brain trust should not be condemned too severely," he said. "The academic theorist has something to offer."

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK

Existing Agencies To Enforce NRA Codes: Enforcement of NRA code provisions is to be handled by existing governmental agencies rather than by a special board, it was made known at the White House following a conference by President Roosevelt with Donald R. Richberg, chairman of the general NRA policy board; Attorney Geeral Cummings, and Chairman Garland S. Ferguson, Jr., of the Federal Trade Commission. The National Recovery Board is to endeavor to effect a settlement in all such cases of violation of the trade-practices provisions of the codes as possible, it being left for the Department of Justice or the Federal Trade Commission to take care of such cases in which the Recovery Board is unsuccessful. Each of the two governmental agencies are to designate officials to sit with the board in the consideration of controversies for the purpose of determining those in which court action may be necessary.

Dr. Wilcox Named To General Code Authority: Dr Clair Wilcox, professor of economics at Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pa., has been appointed to the NRA General Code Authority to succeed Stacy May, who announced when he joined the authority that he could not serve beyond October 1, 1934. Dr. Wilcox was nominated by the Consumers' Advisory Board. He has been secretary of the Pennsylvania Parole Commission, and director of research of the National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement.

Grocery Trade Makes Best Progres In Four Years: The increase in the consumption of foods, which started last year and carried the total for the country to around 90,000,000 tons, for which the public paid approximately $18,000,000,000, has proceeded at a more rapid rate thus far in 1934. With the exception of May to July, monthly distributive totals have been successively higher, with abrupt gains reported for both August and September. The curtailment of sales in some of the industrial centers, and the unemployment increases in districts where there has been a lack of F. E. R. A. activities, have been more than counterbalanced by the increased expenditures of farmers. Buying from wholesalers and manufacturers is being done with more confidence than last year, orders are for larger amounts, and a growing percentage of the better grades of goods and fancies are being included, according to a survey of the groeery trade which has just been completed by Dun and Bradstreet, Inc.

Lumber Plants Show Employment Increase: The National Lumber Manufacturers' Association said in a report that preliminary figures on employment in 4,460 mills for July and August showed a 2.44 per cent increase as compared with May and June totals. The figures for the two months, the association said, were affected by reduced operations in July and increased production and shipments following the settlement of the Pacific coast longshoremen's strike, which had greatly reduced activities in the Douglas fir area during July. Report from the Douglas fir area, the association said, showed an average increase of 70 pe rcent in man-hours in August compared with July.

Labor Board Set-Up For Photo-Engraving Trade: The National Industrial Recovery Board has announced approval of the organization and procedure of the Labor Board of the photo-engraving industry, and authorized it to consider and pass upon alleged violations, disputes, or non-observance of the labor provisions of the Photo-Engraving Code. The members are Louis Flader, 166 West Van Buren, Chicago; Edward J. Volz, 292 Madison Avenue, New York, and Tanner H. Freeman, 457 Leader Building, Cleveland. The code, approved December 23, established a joint labor board, to be composed of one member selected by the executive council of the American Photo-Engravers Association, one by the executive council of the Employing Photo-Engravers Association of America, and one by the executive council of the International Photo-Engravers Union of North America. The administration member of the Code Authority is to be a member of the board without vote, but with veto. Any vetoed decisions are subject to review by the National Industrial Recovery Board. The Labor Board's decisions are appealable to the National Industrial Recovery Board. All rulings on interpretations, exceptions, exemptions, and modifications are to be made by the National Industrial Recovery Board. The Labor Board is empowered to set up local and regional boards.

Check Muffler

Car mufflers should be checked at intervals, according to the California State Automobile Association. The purpose of the muffler is to deaden motor noises but in doing so it creates a certain amount of back pressure.

If allowed to become clogged with carbon, there is the possibility of exhaust fumes entering the car, causing headaches and other discomfort, and power loss also is likely to occur.

OLD HISTORICAL DATA OF THE COLMA VALLEY

Incidents of Pioneer Days and Charatters Recalled For Our Readers

(By An Old-Timer)

Too much praise cannot be given the editor of The Record for his enterprise in giving his readers, last week, that first page illustration of the extension of the Junipero Serra Boulevard, southward from School street to the intersection of the No. 101 State Highway at Baden, together with pictures of Supervisor Witt of Daly City and Supervisors Al Roncovieri and Andy Gallagher of San Francisco, as commissioners who negotiated the deal.

This trio is said to be maneuvering now for federal government funds for building a three mile unit from Tanforan to the Sneath ranch. That seems to Ye Old Timer to be very poor policy at this time, when there is a far more valuable project in the building of the School street extension to Thornton Beach that was started by the late Supervisor "Good Roads" Jim Casey, who had expended $85,000 on the road at the time of his retirement from office, when the work was abandoned for no cause whatever. The writer was honored with the friendship of the late George Sneath, who was one of the most enterprising and highly respected citizens of San Mateo County, and at one time was present at a conference between him and Supervisor Casey regarding the School street extension. Mr. Sneath was, if possible, more enthusiastic than Mr. Casey and promised his personal support to the limit. It is my belief, knowing the public spiritedness of George Sneath, that were he alive at this time he would urge the School street to Thornton Beach extension first, because of the superior advantage in first making a good boulevard to Thornton Beach, a distance of about one mile and a half, and the cost would necessarily be much less than the proposed road to the Sneath ranch, even if it were not for the $85,000 already expended.

The point of commencement is exactly the same as was this new Unit C extension of the Junipero Serra boulevard. Besides, at the proposed road's intersection with the Skyline boulevard, one mile west, there would result a saving in the rebuilding of the present crooked and dangerous road between Colma and the Skyline, which in reality is only fit as a road to the ranches along the way.

Supervisor Witt, as one of the commissioners, should take up this important matter with the others, as the School street extension will be many times more important than would the Sneath ranch road at this time, especially on account of the contemplated Bridge Celebration at Lake Merced in 1938, because Thornton Beach, Mussel Rock and the Palisades would no doubt be most memorable to the many thousands of visitors at the exposition.

By accident, last week, a line of type was lost out of an important item regarding a school meeting on October 26, 1909, in advocacy of the Vista Grande and Crocker school bonds. The lost line conveyed the spirit of the good old go-getters of twenty-five years ago, who "never voted against an improvement bond issue for any purpose whatever." That school bond election carried a week later by a vote of over 5 to 1, and it actually put the Jefferson School District on the map as one of the most progressive districts in San Mateo County.

Editor George Dunn, in the current issue of his Half Moon Bay Review, observes: "Remember the good old days when we went out driving on Sunday afternoon and the worst traffic menace we had to put up with was the horse fly?" Those were the days, twenty-five years ago, when Supervisor Casey had Mission Road sprinkled Saturdays for the pleasure of Sunday drivers. How strange this must all seem to the present generation, who are enjoying our magnificent highways, which are far superior to the streets in the largest cities a quarter of a century ago.

Cold Affects Oil

Cold weather causes oil in a motor to become chilled and assume a semi solid state when the motor has been idle for a time, according to the emergency road service of the California State Automobile Association. Until the oil warms up wearing surfaces are subjected to harsh treatment because they are not preperly coated with lubricant. This is the reason motorists are advised not to race the motor to warm it up. The motor should never be raced unnecessarily under any conditions.

In Defense Of . . .
CALIFORNIA!

Sinclairism—the program of Upton Sinclair and his radical associates—is Communism, cleverly disguised, but deliberately designed to Russianize California state government.

It is rooted in class hatred, fostered and fomented by radicals who boast of their hatred of American ideals and American principles of government.

IF IT IS SUCCESSFUL, IT WILL DESTROY CALIFORNIA'S BUSINESS STRUCTURE, BANKRUPT OUR FARMERS, OVERTHROW OUR ORGANIZED LABOR, CONFISCATE OUR HOMES, WRECK OUR INDUSTRIES AND ROB OUR EMPLOYED WORKERS OF THEIR EMPLOYMENT.

It is a definite, unmistakable attempt to establish a Soviet State in California—to be headed by a Godless Governor, who prates of Free Love, sneers at marriage, slanders our churches and looks forward to the day when (quoting Upton Sinclair's own words) "we may see in America that wonderful sight which we saw in Russia, when Christian monks assembled and burned their holy books"—the day of Revolution!

Your personal security is at issue—the welfare of your home and family; your American citizenship, your rights of self-rule and freedom of worship—your job and your independence.

NELSON NOW HAS GOLD MINE IN HER OWN BACK YARD

Creeks That Pour Into The Kootenay River High In Yellow Metal Values

The remarkable improvement and widespread optimism evident in Nelson are by no means entirely due to the activity around Ymir, Erie and Sheep Creek, where the major gold-mining operations are under way, according to Sidney Norman, northern mining expert.

Nelson has a gold-mine backyard all her own—along the creeks pouring into Kootenay River as it runs its white water way to a junction with the Columbia at Brilliant.

Cottonwood, Sandy, Eagle, Forty-nine and Rover Creeks, and several bryonic mines and some that have further down the river, all have empassed that stage with reasonable assurance.

You see, early geological reports discouraged prospecting in those directions but prospectors, who have a fool habit of stepping in where geologists fear to tread, ignored the learned warnings, with results that seem to confound much of the expert lore that has been largely accepted as gospel.

Now if one cares to brave the straight up-and-down trails that climb toward the headwaters he may see many an attractive prospect laboriously whittled out of a supposedly geologic desert.

Gold Where You Find it

As an old-timer remarked to the writer a few days ago, "Y'see, pardner, I'd just as leave have a vein in cyanide as in these dodgasted Rossland volcanics if the durned thing'd only give me bacon and beans."

Of course he meant syenite, but, just the same, he emphasized one of the salient reasons mines are found. Gold, it seems, even in this old district, is where you find it, and it has even been known to climb trees, let alone dislocate geology.

And these entirely extraneous observations are emitted without the slightest tinge of intentional disrespect to the eminent geologists and engineers who have carried the burdens of the B. C. mining industry so heriocially for so long. But experiential docet. And we all can learn—yet.

British Money Coming

Three miles up Cottonwood Creek, right behind the city, on the international highway, and the Great Northern branch railway and within a few feet of the West Kootenay power lines, is the Perrier mine, now under option to British capital, already in bank in Vancouver and awaiting the leisurely decision which usually characterizes such transactions.

The engineers' reports have already been made and are said to be quite favorable. Meanwhile, owing to shortage of water power, work has been cut down to a skeleton force which is keeping the shaft pumped out.

Perrier is one of the oldest locations in the district and has shipped three or four carloads of good gold ore to smelter this year. Between December, 1931, and March, 1932, shipments reached 980 tons with gross value of $9,089. Average content ran from .275 oz. gold to .82 oz. gold, and silver from .6 oz. to 4.5 oz. in carload lots.

Apex's Big Vein

Two miles further up the highway and 1000 feet above it, on the east side, is the Apex group, now under option to Vancouver people.

Exposed by nature on a steep side hill over a distance of several hundred feet is a quartz vein showing widths up to over nine feet. A tunnel has been run 70 feet on the footwall side, and at the face from which average samples have run from $3 to $4.75.

The vein lies in contact with Nelson granite on the footwall and agrillite on the hanging wall side. A lamprophyre dike apparently follows the footwall on the same strike.

The property offers an excellent chance for effective diamond drilling, and it is probable that this method of development will be followed in the initial stages if the present deal is consummated.

Noble Five Operation

On Toad Mountain, within easy sight of Nelson, Noble Five Mines is continuing development of the Venus-Athabasca mine, another of the old-time producers, under direction of Paul Lincoln, M. E.

An important strike has recently been made on No. 2 level on the west side of the old incline shaft, which was sunk from No. 1 level, 60 feet above.

Here a shoot of good ore a foot wide, and averaging 1.5 oz. gold per ton, has bzeen followed along a length of 100 feet.

It had already been developed for 100 feet on the east side of the shaft, so that the total length of the shoot is now 200 feet, with good ore still showing in the west face.

The shoot is in the granite and the vein will be followed to the contact of Rossland volcanics, in which area the previous production of the mine was derived over a shoot length of 200 feet.

Production in the past reached around $450,000 from 11,000 tons averaging $40 a ton. Recently, a carload of ore was shipped to Trail averaging about 2.5 oz. gold.

Livingstone Mill

The most important operation in the river district is that of Livingston Mining Co., Inc., which has been quietly developing the old Granite-Poorman mine on Eagle Creek during the past four years.

Shunning publicity, the management has kept its own counsel and has never sought public support. The shareholders are residents of Seattle and include five bankers, it is said. Even well-posted mining men of Nelson have been largely unaware of the work that has been carried on under their very noses.

The property is known to contain at least nine veins, of which the Hardscrabble, Poorman and Beelzebub are the most prominent. It has been developed by six adit tunnels and shaft of 300 feet from No. 4 level, with a crosscut at the bottom connecting the Poorman and Hardscrabble vein workings.

The mine has always made a great deal of water, and it has been a tedious matter to pump out the old workings.

Mill Justified

Last week this vein heading was in 540 feet, and was expected to strike the Hardscrabble vein with any round. The two veins are parallel. Another blind vein, carrying good values, was recently intersected about midway between. It is five feet wide, carrying velues of $18, old gold price.

Development has proceeded to the point where milling facilities are justified and the company is now building a 60-ton amalgamation and concentration plant just below the mouth of No. 7 level, which will be the main entry in future. The old stamp mill, near the highway, was wrecked by snow last winter.

During the present year 1000 tons of ore has been shipped to smelter; 500 tons was shipped in 1933 and 350 tons in 1932. The average value has been around $20 a ton, old gold price.

Approximately 80 per cent of the values will be saved by amalgamation. Balance of 20 per cent will be in shape of concentrate, which will find a market at Trail. It is possible that cyanidization will be added later, but that phase of the operation has not yet been definately decided.

RESIDENTS SUPPORT JUDGE E. C. JOHNSON

Many years of faithful, efficient service have placed Judge Ellis C. Johnson in high regard by the entire First Township, over which he has exercised the power granted him by the voters of the district for 24 years.

First elected in 1910 by a large majority, Judge Johnson has been re-elected at each succeeding election by an everincreasing vote.

Residents of all communities in the First Township are urging his re-election, and the press is rendering their support to the campaign to retain the services of this capable justice.

Says the South San Francisco Enterprise: "Over a long period of years, Judge Ellis C. Johnson has served First Township residents efficiently as justice of the peace. He comes up for re-election November 6 with a long record of accomplishments and honest dealings."

"The office of justice of the peace is one which is more important than it seems to be to many people. It requires a definite training. Judge Johnson has acquired that experience during his term as a township judge. Voters would be mistaken to remove a man who has fulfilled the requirements well and whose experience lends dignity to the position."

VOTERS OF CALIFORNIA!

California's Prosperity, Law and Order Demands Sane Enforceable Liquor—Regulation. This State has no use for the Vice, Graft and Crimes of Prohibition!

Here are the facts on two vital measures:

YES
Proposition 2

Legalizes sale of beer, wine and liquor in reputable restaurants, dining rooms, clubs and other legitimate eating places.

Prohibits return of hard liquor saloons; gives State Board of Equalization sweeping power to wipe out undesirable establishments.

Safeguards employment of thousands in agriculture, business, industry.

Will give California sane, enforceable liquor regulation, a law worthy of respect.

NO
Proposition 13

This local option measure will bring back prohibition in its most drastic form. Gives dry minority power to vote your precinct, city or county "bone-dry."

Makes it criminal for you to buy, sell, transport or possess beverages of more than one-half of one per cent alcohol.

Will return prohibition, with the bootlegger, graft, crime and corruption—and will confiscate business properties such as breweries, wineries

Raises a barrier to the rich tourist trade and will cause irreparable damage to California's economic recovery.

THERE CAN BE BUT ONE CHOICE

FRED E. STEWART, member of the State Board of Equalization, says:

"The present liquor law is utterly unworkable. We were given a tremendous responsibility and a law with no teeth in it. Proposition 2 clearly gives us the power to clear up prevailing conditions. The liquor business must be rigidly controlled. It cannot be so supervised if the present law is continued. It is essential that the people of California vote YES on Proposition 2."
